MUNICIPAL LIGHT PLANT METHODS

How Those in Massachusetts Are Run With Rates for Light and Power-Half of Them Purchase Current From Private Corporations-Amount Produced and Cost of Production in Comparison With Norwich-Costs Per Kilowatt Hour.

In Norwich and in several other places where the news is served by The Bulletin there is intense interest in regard to the rates and conditions in regard to the rates charged for electricity for light and power, together with the cost of production. The Bulletin sent a representative to Boston to get statistics concerning boston to set statistics concerning the municipal owned electrical plants in the sister state of Massachusetts, and some interesting statistics were obtained, in the main through the board of electric and gas commissioners of electric and gas commissioners of the state, who have jurisdiction over municipally owned as well as privately owned electric plants. Bastd on the latest annual returns made to the commissioners and published in 1915, The Bulletin presents a table showing the cost per kilowatt at the several municipal plants, of which there are 37 in Massachusetts and 38 contents and plants, of which there are 37 in Massachusetts and 38 contents and plants, of which there are 37 in Massachusetts and 38 contents a k.

LIFE AT BALBOA. Described by Second Lieutenant Horace H. Allen-Wonderful Trip

Through Panama Canal. Interesting letters continue to come home to friends from Second Lienten-ant Horace H. Allen, now with the U. S. mine-planter, Gen. John M. Schofield, which has reached Balboa, on the Pacific side of the Isthmus, Writing under date of Jan. 25 he says: Have just arrived at Balbon after a very interesting trip through the Panama canal. It is the mos wonderful piece of work that can be imagined, and I am lucky to have the chance to see it-and get paid for it,

A government tug and three submarines went through the locks with us, so we had company all the way. The lislands, of which there are hundreds, were so thick with ferns, palms, banana trees, etc., that one cannot look into it all, and it seemed as though one could walk right along on the solid green. There were mountains all around us and they did look beautiful. We went into the first Gatum lock about 7.20, were raised about 25 feet at the rate of 5 feet per minute and went in Lock No. 2 and went up at the same rate to Lock No. 3 and went up as an loce little breeze blowing up on

The statutes of Massachusetts relating to municipal light plants prescribes that the excess of the estimated annual expenses, including the gross expense of operation, maintenance and repair, interest on the debt created to pay for the plant, depreciation, sinking fund or debt requirements, and loss in the operation of the plant during the preceding year over the estimated income from sales to private consumers shall be included The statutes of Massachusetts relatto private consumers shall be included in the annual appropriations for maintenance and in the tax levy. For this excess, which it must thus raise by taxation, the city or town receives the street, and in some cases, the public building lighting. In some instances electricity fur-nished public buildings is metered charged at the same rate as to private consumers, and paid out of other appropriations in the same manner as though the plants were privately owned. In other instances also specific appropriations are made for street lighting presumably with the number and type of lamps to be supplied in view.

For these reasons, it is desirable to know from the standpoint of the city charge $9 a year. No wiring or lamp M. C. A. shop meeting. Rev. Dr. Slo-cum gave a forcible discourse on the Price of a Man. Among some of the things he said were: Every man has a price. Some men go cheap—dirt of lighting its buildings and streets Price of a Man. Among some of the things he said were: Every man has a price. Some men go cheap—dirt cheap, and occasionally you will find a man who can't be bought. I am inclined to think that there are a larger number of such men than we realize.

I or the plant basis comparable with the cost to u basis comparable with the cost to u of lighting its buildings and streets if served by a privately owned plant. Such information can only be obtained by the electricity used in public buildings when not measured, and computing the cost per lamp based on the average street lamp based on the average

For all its expenditure the municipality (in Massachusetts) receives only its street lighting and the income from its commercial business, come from its commercial business, and the cost of the former to the city or town is the difference betwee such income and the entire cost carrying on the business. Obviously such cost is effected by the profit or loss in the cost commercial lighting. With the exception of Middleborough, all other municipal plants producing their own current are operated by steam, while Middleborough utilizes
